

Communication video links

If you wish to send any of these video links to your learners please double check that they still work prior to sending. This is because SCIE may take older video's off their site.

I will keep adding any new video's as and when I find them

Thanks Di

<https://www.scie.org.uk/socialcaretv/video-player.asp?v=communication>

The above is - Dignity in care: communication What is the video about?
Good communication can help people to maintain their dignity. Take Matthew, a young man with Down's Syndrome who lives in a shared house. In this film, Matthew's

<https://www.scie.org.uk/socialcaretv/video-player.asp?v=better-life-in-the-community>

The above video shows older people with high support needs who live in the community. They talk about what is important in their lives and how they like to be treated.

It is based around the Joseph Rowntree Foundation's A Better Life programme The Foundation identified seven key challenges to be addressed for older people with high support needs to achieve a better quality of life:

1. Old age is not about 'them': it is about all of us
2. Older people are individuals and they are, as a group, becoming more diverse
3. Relationships matter to us whatever our age; we have a fundamental human need to connect with others meaningfully
4. Older people with high support needs have many assets, strengths and resources that they can also bring to the development and provision of services
5. Whatever our age or support needs, we should all be treated as citizens: equal stakeholders with both rights and responsibilities
6. The individual and collective voices of older people with high support needs should be heard and given power
7. We need both to innovate and improve existing models

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=7RAm9OsL1g4&t=1s?rel=0>

The above video is called “Learn Makaton Signing – Top 10 signs for nurses”

Nurses, doctors and other health professionals recently completed a survey about communication. This video is the result of the top 10 words that were requested to be put into Makaton sign. Mandy Brown from 1 Starfish is assisted by Sarah who is a qualified nurse.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IVi90XUExy4?rel=0>

The above video is called “Shifting Focus: Tips for communicating with people with dementia”

Jillian McConnell, Knowledge Broker at Canadian Dementia Resource and Knowledge Exchange, shares some ideas for communicating with people with dementia.